

Enrique's Journey Reading Schedule

The dates included below are the days on which each chapter will be assigned. It is important for you to stay on track with the reading so that you are prepared for reading quizzes following each of these days. I expect you to complete annotations for each chapter as outlined below. For each night's reading, please write two open-ended discussion questions to offer to the class. In addition, you will be assigned a literal or figurative border to take notes on throughout the reading.

Highlight and Annotation Guide

Follow the guidelines below to interact with the reading. It is not enough to simply highlight in the designated color; you must type something as well.

- Pink – for personal reactions/connections (text-self, text-text, text-world)/questions
- Yellow – for examples of direct and indirect characterization
- Green – for passages relating to the following essential questions:

EQ #1: What happens when we see people as the “other”?

EQ #2: What is the difference between figurative and literal?

EQ #3: How does Enrique’s understandings of home affect his journey?

EQ #4: What is the figurative distance Enrique travels? What is the literal distance he travels?

Assessment

To assess your understanding and completion of this book, you will complete:

- “Othering” Project
- Figurative and Literal Mapping
- Final Essay (Tuesday, May 29- Tuesday, June 5)
